

Personal Experience
Unwavering Optimism
Passionate Collaboration

METHYLCOBALAMIN PRESCRIPTION INFORMATION

Subcutaneous/Intramuscular Injection Directions

One injection is given daily in AM after morning meal with BD 1 cc syringe, 31 gauge, ½-inch length needle or similar ultra-fine insulin-type disposable one-time usage syringes. Remove the vial from the refrigerator and fill the syringe approximate 20 minutes before administering. If using pre-filled syringe, remove from the refrigerator 20 minutes before using. Keep the syringe shielded from the light while waiting for it to reach room temperature. Injections are administered underneath the upper arms and thighs, once a day at the same time each day. Early morning shots are more beneficial for the extra energy that is obtained. Rotate injections daily (left arm, right arm, left thigh, right thigh, start over). If the volume of the red methyl-B<sub>12</sub> injection is large enough, the next urine specimen may be pink or red depending on the concentration of the urine. Avoid alcohol and smoking and if antibiotics are needed, methylcobalamin should be temporarily discontinued. Do not use if you are diabetic.

Information for Physicians

Hopewell Pharmacy is a professional compounding pharmacy located in Central New Jersey, in continuous operation since 1900. They specialize in the preparation of medications and vitamins tailored to the needs of a particular patient. Hopewell compounds injectable methylcobalamin using powder purchased from an FDA approved facility. The NDC (National Drug Code issued by the FDA) identification for methylcobalamin powder is 51927-2963-00 and there is no code for the compounded product. Hopewell will accept individual orders with faxed physician prescription and insurance card (front and back) from individuals.

Prescription Information

25 mg/mL (pH 2.7-3.0) Methylcobalamin Preservative Free, Low pH
Intramuscular Injection in multiple use (30 dosage) re-injectable vial with 30 single use ½ “
syringes      Pre-filled Syringes are also available
Dosage:      1X daily, 1 injection 8AM

Pharmacy Information

Hopewell Pharmacy and Compounding Center
1 West Broad Street
Hopewell, NJ 08525
Email: info@hopewellrx.com
Tel 1- 609-466-1960      Tel 1-800-792-6670, ext 3      Fax 1-800-417-3864